CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF MINING AND RECLAMATION

2010 MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

ASMR will grant up to three scholarships this year to deserving undergraduate, masters and Ph.D. students (one scholarship at each level) from academic institutions having curricula leading to professions in reclamation. In addition to a cash award ($750 for undergraduate; $1000 for masters and $1500 for Ph.D.), a plaque, one-year student membership, complimentary national meeting registration, and a meeting awards luncheon ticket will be provided.

Selection criteria

- Applicants must have completed at least the sophomore year of a curriculum in a science discipline directly relating to and leading to a profession in reclamation.
- Applicants must be full time students, have an adequate grade point average, carry the curriculum-required hours, and have participated in other scholastic activities.
- Extracurricular participation and leadership in a recognized ASMR student chapter and other professional accomplishments will be considered.
- Applicants will be considered for a Scholarship at a specific level either i) while they are enrolled at that given level or ii) within one calendar year of completing their degree at that given level
- Previous award winners at a specific level are eligible to apply for the award at a different level, as long as the applicant i) can verify a significant change of topic (either by attending a different institution, changing majors, or explicitly explaining a significant change in academic interests) and ii) is not applying in the year immediately following the year in which they received an award.
- Previous award winners at a specific level are not eligible to apply for a second award at the same level.
- No individual may be awarded more than two Scholarships in total.
