

IALR E-MAIL DIRECTORY

The objective of the IALR E-Mail Directory is to identify individuals who are interested in learning more about the reclamation of lands disturbed by mineral extraction and processing in other countries and to provide them with publications that provide a global perspective of mined land reclamation. Those interested in being listed in the Directory should contact Lee Daniels wdaniels@vt.edu . There are no charges for this service. A copy of the Directory will be sent to each person listed in the Directory.

Those listed in the Directory will receive copies of the newsletter, annual reports and other unpublished information prepared by research centers, government agencies, academic institutions, and commercial companies. IALR invites these entities to cooperate by sending electronic copies of their publications to Lee Daniels for distribution to those listed in the Directory. An alternative would be to have IALR send a copy of the Directory to a cooperators and the cooperator add these individuals to their mailing list.

The success of this service will be determined by the number of cooperators agreeing to provide publications. IALR will welcome cooperators from anywhere in the world.

Cooperators and the publication they will be provide is listed below:
