ASMR NEWSLETTER

October, 2006

2007 MEETINGS – GILLETTE, WY
JUNE 2-7, 2007

The date by which I was to receive abstracts was extended and to date I have received 75 abstracts. This number is down from the past, but since we really had two meetings in 2006, this was expected. There are a couple of symposiums in the mill so that number should increase some. The draft manuscripts will be due December 1, 2006, and the final manuscripts will be due March 15, 2007. If you have an abstract you wish to submit, get it to me right away and we will accept it, but the date for submitting your draft paper is still that listed above. Send the abstracts to Dick Barnhisel - ASMR5@insightbb.com and I will acknowledge the receipt of your abstract.

Have you sent in your abstract? If not do it today!

ASMR MAILINGS

A good response has occurred so far from the second mailing which was made on August 7 to the Reclamation Matters mailing list. So far 221 ASMR members have returned the page regarding continuing to receive the magazine as a hard copy. Several indicated they wouldn't object if we had to go to an electronic magazine, but of these, the suggestion to put it on the web page would be desirable due to the size of the publication. To remind you, I currently place the magazine on the web page after the next issue has been mailed.

Letters will be sent to those who have had exhibit booths at the past four meetings in order to start accepting exhibitors for the Gillette Meetings. The draft letter is under review and should be finalized shortly. I hope to send this out in about two weeks.

Ballots for the election of officers should also be mailed in the next couple of weeks.

MINING AND RECLAMATION SERVICES DIRECTORY

The response has been good in our efforts to establish the Corporate Member Services Directory. The materials for placing companies in this directory may be found on the ASMR web page under the above title. If you are associated with a company, we invite your company to become a Corporate Member. The initial phase of this new service is now on the web page and will be modified as this section is being developed. To date 17 entries may be found on the web page, although some of these members have yet to complete the check list. There are some additional companies currently listed in the 2006 Directory as Corporate Members which was complimentary as a result of being an exhibitor at the 2005 meetings. There are also a few who joined this level of membership, but chose not to be listed in the directory on the web page.

The NEC (and myself) will be working on improving this Web-based Mining and Reclamation Services Directory as an enhancement of the Corporate Membership category within our Society. Please visit this section on our web page and send me suggestions. If your company is interested in participating, and has not completed the three forms, I hope this will be done soon. Our goal is to facilitate or enhance networking and business-to-business relationships among our valued members and those who visit our web site. To date, there have been several “hits” on this section of the web page. We hope that this number will increase over time as more persons discover this new service.

As stated, the initial draft of the Mining and Reclamation Services Directory has been placed on our web page. Please visit this site at <http://ces.ca.uky.edu/asmr/Services%20Directory.htm> and let us know of any suggestions for its improvement.

RECLAMATION MATTERS

Did you receive the fall issue of Reclamation Matters ? I believe they were mailed in mid-October to everyone, at least that was when I received my copy. If you didn't get yours, let me know as I received some extra copies.

Have you considered advertising in our magazine? Contact Jeff Skousen for information. He also will need articles for the Spring issue, regardless of who is the publisher.
